Testimonials

"ClaroRead has given Olivia independence and means she is just like all the other girls. She no longer relies on me and can do everything herself. The progress she has made is wonderful - and she can use ClaroRead all the way through school and university."

Lesley Fraser, mum to severely dyslexic ClaroRead user and aspiring History of Art student Olivia.

ClaroRead for Mac provides the tools to give students independence, reducing their reliance on teachers and parents and giving them the opportunity to achieve the same standards as everyone else.

ClaroRead for Mac is easy-to-use and provides the perfect integrated tool for use with Microsoft Office 2004. The range of additional voices in over 20 languages is also helpful for those learning a second language.

Perfect integrated tool for use with Microsoft Office 2004.

ClaroRead for Mac is available in single user and school, college and university licenses, meaning software is available to an unlimited number of users for a set price. To discuss tailoring a license for your educational establishment, contact a local reseller, a full list is available on the web site.

Product Overview

Since ClaroRead for Mac is closely integrated with Microsoft Word, Safari and other Mac applications, practically any text can be spoken aloud.

The ClaroRead toolbar for Microsoft Word allows a user to quickly and easily change the font size, colours, spacing and background colour. Any word can be checked for definition and meaning with a single click on the ClaroRead Word toolbar.

OmniPage
PRO X FOR MACINTOSH

ClaroRead PLUS for Mac includes a full copy of OmniPage Pro X, the most advanced optical character recognition software ever delivered to Macintosh users. It includes a host of features designed to do one thing - save customers more time and effort than ever before. OmniPage Pro X can scan paper directly into Microsoft Word, and convert PDF files into text documents for editing and to be spoken back by ClaroRead.

Includes ClaroView for Mac

ClaroView for Mac will work with any piece of software, as it acts as an "overlay" on the Mac screen. With ClaroView, you can change the colour of the overlay from the whole colour spectrum. You can also then adjust the tint level to make it brighter or darker. As users have different visual preferences, ClaroView allows you to set the colour of the overlay. This colour settings will be retained. There is a single button to reset the colour to your standard display settings
